

Anima Vitrea

The body of whom you loved is part of my substance, my intimate form reveals its traces, my voids are full of their essence.

I am Anima Vitrea.

From the glass masters of Murano Anima Vitrea

Anima Vitrea is an artistic object made with the cremation ashes of a pet.

The ashes are handled with care by master glassmakers and incorporated into special original artifacts made for this purpose in Murano (Venice) in a historical glassware. The creation of individual crystals is filmed to ensure traceability.

Unique and unrepeatable

Anima Vitrea

Each creation has its own particularity that makes it unique and unrepeatable.

Internal bubbles are unpredictable and result from the incorporation of ashes whit hot glass.

You can change the basic colors but the nuances are not controllable, determining its originality.

It's not an urn

Anima Vitrea

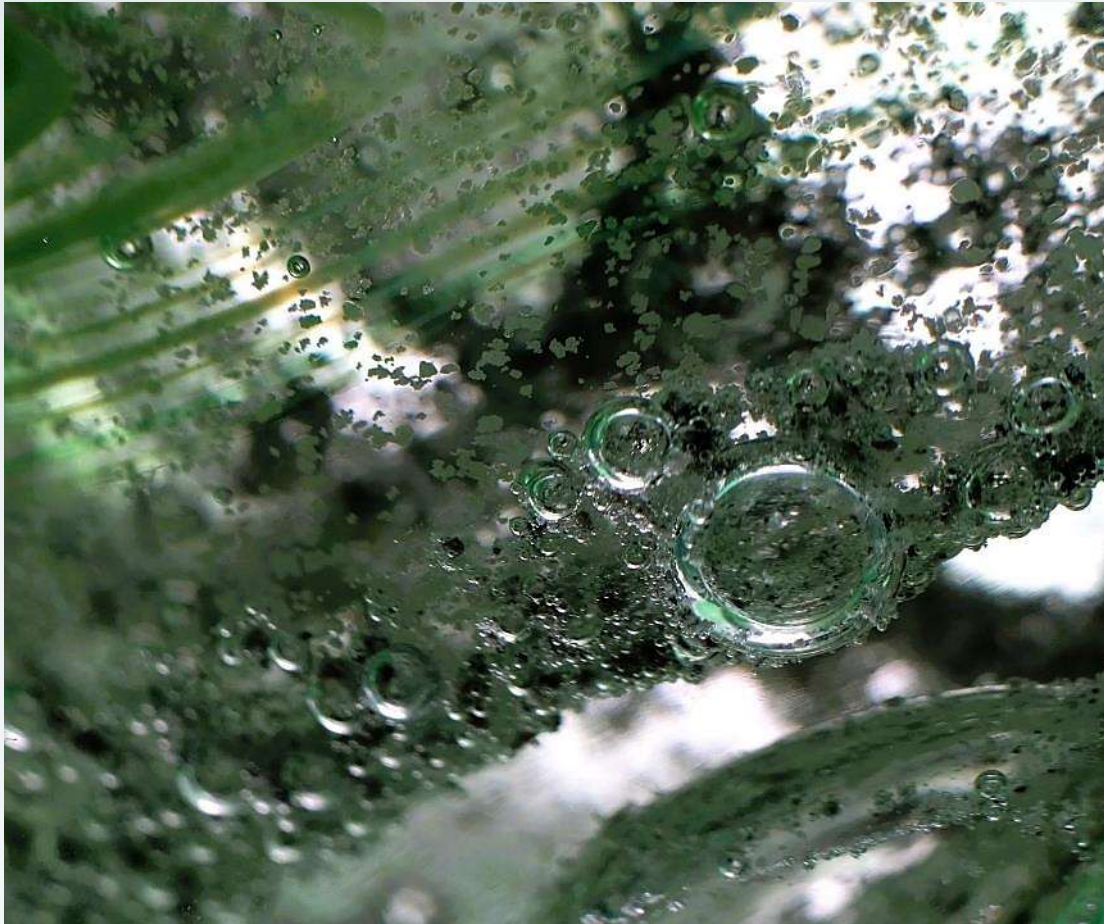

Anima Vitrea is not an urn.

It is not therefore a simple ash container but an artistic creation whose particularity is influenced by the ashes which, developing gas in contact with the hot glass during the realization, create a cavities and a complex structure.
